2. Coordinators will understand the specific role and responsibilities that they have in implementing Milestones for their programs

4. Coordinators will understand the scope of this major ACGME change in evaluating psychiatry residents' and fellows' competency and will feel empowered to facilitate this change within their program

Abstract (one short paragraph description of the content of the presentation):

ACGME's Milestones Project has been one of the most significant changes to evaluating psychiatry residents' clinical and professional competency in the past 15 years. It has required years of discussion, review, comments, and roll-out. However, the Milestones Project has been presented to many coordinators as an overwhelming and inscrutable challenge. Uncertainty and lack of understanding the Milestones Project on many levels has fueled much anxiety for coordinators as this system now needs to be implemented within the training programs of the Psychiatry specialty and subspecialties. This workshop is meant to focus on reviewing and explaining the new system to coordinators and helping them understand their role and responsibilities with the new system and to consider how they will carry out certain anticipated tasks.
