Thursday, March 3 - Saturday, March 5, 2016 – Coordinator Symposium

This year's AADPRT meeting promises to be an exciting one and we need your help to make it so.

This is a call for presentations for the 2016 Coordinator Symposium. Last year's workshops included sessions on best practices for orientation to milestone implementation. For 2016, we are looking forward to more thought-provoking workshops. Now is the time to start thinking about the symposium and how you can make it even better. Did your onboarding process or your exit process make June/July run smoother? How do you handle graduation and onboarding at the same time? Have you had success with your approach to the program evaluation committee? Additional thoughts include: an interactive presentation on a topic of interest to coordinators that could include small group discussions, a presentation with your program director, or professional development.

The above suggestions are just that . . . suggestions. Please submit workshop suggestions that are meaningful to you and have value to our coordinator group: 45-minutes is allotted for each workshop (30 minutes for presentation and discussion, 15 minutes for questions and wrap up).

Submit your presentation(s) using the following form. Compose your submission thoughtfully, concisely and clearly. The deadline for presentation submission is Oct. 19. No submissions will be accepted after the deadline.

In recent years, the number of workshop submissions has greatly exceeded the available space. Submissions are reviewed and ranked by a committee of experienced residency coordinators for educational value, appropriateness for the AADPRT coordinator audience, topic diversity, and innovation. All of these factors are taken into account in ranking submissions. All submissions must include educational objectives. All submissions will be reviewed and we will let you know the status of your submission as soon as possible (probably early to mid-November).

We hope to hear from you!
