

American Association of Directors of Psychiatric Residency Training

Biosketch

Melissa Arbuckle, MD, PhD

AADPRT Position: Program Chair

Melissa Arbuckle, MD, PhD is Vice Chair for Education and Director of Resident Education in the Department of Psychiatry at Columbia and the New York State Psychiatric Institute. Dr.

Arbuckle's academic interests focus on the intersection between education, mental health services, and evidence-based practices. She has developed model curricula for AADPRT on both quality improvement and resource management. She is also co-chair of the National Neuroscience Curriculum Initiative which is dedicated to developing and disseminating shared resources for training psychiatry residents to integrate a modern neuroscience perspective into their clinical practice.