Dissecting Austin's Live Music Landscape

PLAY VIDEO

Austin adopted the slogan Live Music Capital of the World® in 1991 when the city realized it boasted the most live music venues per capita of any city in America. Today, Austin has more than 250 live music locations (and growing).

Television's longest running music show "Austin City Limits" celebrates its 40th anniversary this year by inducting the first class of musicians into the ACL Hall of Fame. Some of the nation's best festivals (South By Southwest, Austin City Limits Music Festival, Fun Fun Fun Fest) call Austin home. Music legends Willie Nelson, Ray Benson, Robert Plant and the late Stevie Ray Vaughan have all sported an Austin zip code.

The capital of Texas lives and breathes live music 365 days a year. Experience these local scenes for yourself:

The Continental Club on South Congress books local and regional Texas country, blues and roots rock seven nights a week. Tuesday happy hour with Toni

Price has been a tradition for more than 20 years. Austinites in the know like to head upstairs to the intimate Continental Gallery to see laid-back, local jazz and improv acts.

Austin institution The Broken Spoke features many of the same live country bands (such as Dale Watson and The Derailers) as it did 20 years ago. Largely unchanged since it was founded in 1964, The Spoke is considered an authentic Austin dancehall.

Leading bands from around the world have graced the stage at ACL Live at The Moody Theater, including Willie Nelson, Devo, Pearl Jam, Gypsy Kings, The National and ZZ Top. The $46-million venue is also home to the "Austin City Limits" television series. Fans are guaranteed a great view as no seat is further than 70 feet from the stage.

Sixth Street boasts a ton of live music. Second-floor venue The Parish is a must-hit with sound and lighting rivaling larger concert halls. Just off Sixth on Red River is hipster hangout The Mohawk where fans can see punk, indie rock, hip-hop and rock acts year-round.

Across the street, Stubb's BBQ hosts national acts outside, while local and regional bands perform on the smaller stage inside. Red 7 leans towards the heavier stuff, metal, post-rock, shoegaze and post-punk music. A couple doors down, Holy Mountain features local acts.

Fans in booming East Austin can find legendary punk and rock club Emo's. East Sixth Street's Hotel Vegas and The Volstead Lounge feature psych-rock, punk and hard rock, while The White Horse puts on the honky-tonk with two-step lessons and great local swing and country acts like The Stargazers and Jeff Hughes and Chaparral. The Scoot Inn is the oldest bar in Austin, hosting live music most nights.

Singer-songwriters haunt South Lamar's Saxon Pub where Austin's favorite son Bob Schneider has a longtime residency. The Cactus Café on the University of Texas campus is the most well-known listening room in town, often inviting national and local songwriters to perform.

Seven
Places to Find
Unexpected
Jams

1 The Whip In

Convenience store hosts live music several nights a week and serves remarkably good Indian food and craft beer.

2 Waterloo Records

Circuit of The Americas™
PLAY VIDEO

For a really good time, buckle up and plan a visit to the Circuit of The Americas™ (COTA). The state-of-the-art circuit with a 3.4-mile track not only hosts hot tickets like Formula 1 United States Grand Prix racing and the Texas MotoGP, but also welcomed the very first X Games to screech outside of Los Angeles in 2014. Not just for greased lightning, big musicians are also on the invite list to perform at the track's Austin360 Amphitheater—a must-see setting that was awarded Pollstar's "Best New Major Concert Venue" in 2013.

Over the past 10 years, Austin has not only landed on numerous "best of" lists, but it also frequently finds itself in the top spots. Best place to see live music (Travel+Leisure), best city for golf (Golf Digest), best shopping (Lucky Magazine), best top chef (Bravo), best bar (Esquire)—you name it. The truth is, Austin and its inhabitants have always been on the cutting edge. And now the rest of the country is catching on.

We promise: You'll feel the infectious energy. Austin prides itself on being forward and open-minded, welcoming diversity and progress without ever losing its character. Whether it's experiencing the independent spirit of the businesses on South Congress Avenue, watching the bustle of Sixth Street or taking in the galleries and cafes of blossoming East Austin, before you know it, you may find yourself dreaming of having a 787 zip code.

Things to do, places to eat and music to listen to in Austin's most vibrant neighborhoods. By Lauren Modery & Amy Gabriel

GETTING TO AUSTIN

★ Austin-Bergstrom International Airport

Named the "Best Domestic Airport" in the U.S. by the Airports Council International, ABIA offers nonstop service from more than 40 destinations domestically and in Mexico, along with nonstop service from London. It is easily accessible from anywhere in the country and offers more than 268 commercial passenger flights per day. Live music greets travelers on arrival and is a constant companion as they continue into the city. Downtown Austin is 15–20 minutes from the airport via SuperShuttle van service for about $13, Capital Metro Airport Flyer for $1.50 and taxi for about $30.

★ Amtrak

The Texas Eagle Line offers service from Chicago and arrives at the Austin Amtrak station on Lamar Boulevard.

★ Greyhound Bus

Daily routes drop passengers off at the Greyhound station on IH-35 near Highland Mall.

★ By Car

Austin is about 1.5 hours from San Antonio and 3 hours from Dallas/Fort Worth and Houston.

AROUND TOWN

Austin has a walkable downtown core, with some 6,500 downtown hotel rooms within a short stroll of entertainment districts. A pedicab ride is a popular alternative, and Capital Metro operates more than 80 bus routes around town. Taxis, charters and minibus rentals are also available.

★ MetroRail

MetroRail connects the city of Leander to downtown Austin, with service six days a week, including service until midnight on Friday and Saturday nights. There are 9 stations on the 32-mile line, and tickets can be bought at each station. Fares cost between $1 and $2.75 per trip, depending on trip length. The Downtown station sits on the north end of the Convention Center at Fourth Street between Neches and Trinity, next to the Hilton hotel. Visit capmetro.org for details.

★ Rent a Bike

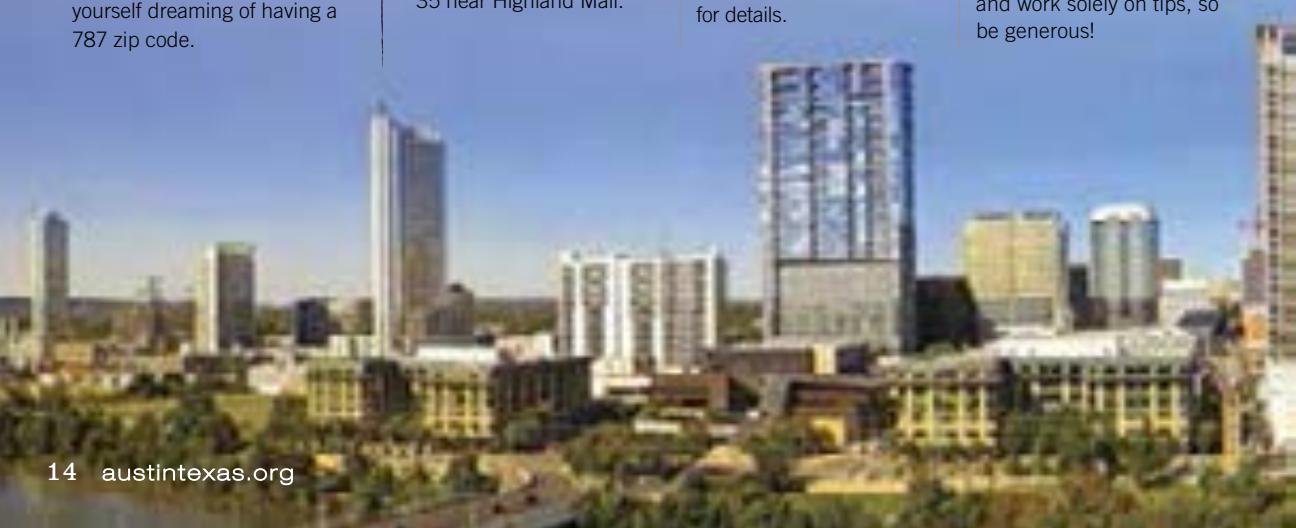

Bike lanes and paths lace the city. Austin has a number of bike shops offering hourly and day rentals. Some, like Barton Springs Bike Rental, also have children's bikes and trailers, and offer a variety of bike tours. Area maps and suggested routes can be downloaded from bicycleaustin.info. Austin B-cycle provides more than 40 bike-share stations throughout downtown 24 hours a day. Visit austin.bcycle.com to find a location near you.

★ By Foot

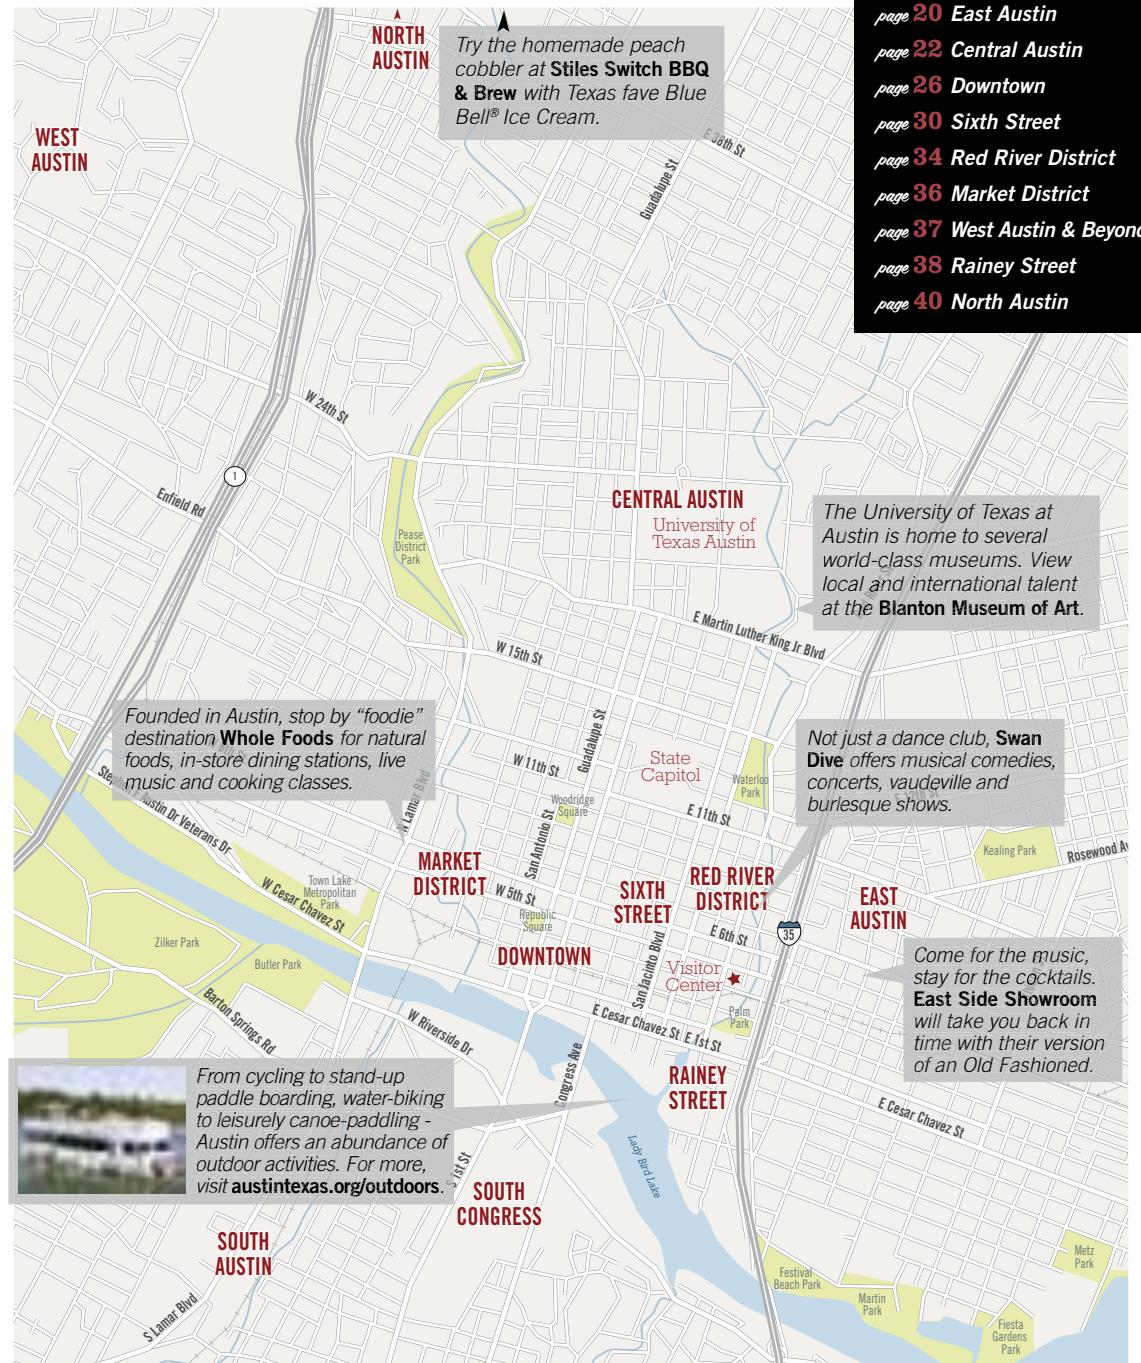

Pedestrians can easily hoof it around town. Attractions, including Sixth Street, the Warehouse District and Lady Bird Lake, are within a 5- to 10-minute walk from many downtown hotels.

★ Pedicab

There are a few different Austin companies that operate pedicabs—carts pulled by cyclists. All drivers are licensed by the City of Austin Ground Transportation Department and work solely on tips, so be generous!

Beerland: A dive bar with a side of suds, this is where you'll tip back beers, play a few arcade games and gear up for some loud live music. Live out your American Idol dreams every Monday night during Rock n' Roll Karaoke. 512-479-7625, beerlandtexas.com

Cheer Up Charlies: First reaching popularity at an original location in East Austin, this live music venue brought its fan base, many from the gay and lesbian community, to the former Club de Ville bar space. 512-431-2133, cheerupcharlies.com

The Side Bar: Nothing fancy. Just a stiff drink and a large gravel patio at which to sip it. Snag a cue stick for the pool table and put some quarters in the jukebox. 512-322-0697, thesidebaraustin.com

HOBOKEN PIE: Say Salut! with a slice from this gourmet 'za shop. Sure, you can have your pepperoni here, but have you ever tried toppings like vegan tofu ricotta? 512-477-4256, hobokenpie.com

PELONS TEX-MEX RESTAURANT: If you consider salt around the rim a necessity for a night of fun, this is your hacienda. Housemade Hatch chile queso, a patio tucked beneath a towering oak tree and an agave tequila margarita will put you in your happy place. 512-243-7874, pelonsaustin.com

Amy's Ice Cream: For a howl at the moon dessert option, revered local lick purveyor, Amy's Ice Cream, provides the Mexican Vanilla ice cream, which Pelons infuses with tequila and tops with Patrón XO Cafe Cocoa Liqueur.

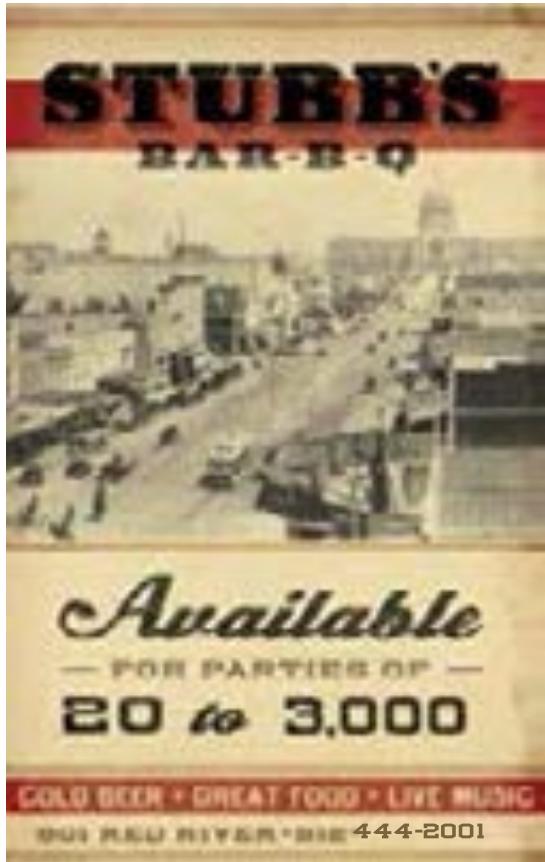

Stop by the new Visitor Center at 602 E. 4th St. for retail merchandise, a free Wi-Fi lounge and daily tours. The Visitor Center also showcases live music and special local art exhibitions.

Hours: 9 a.m.-6 p.m.,
Monday-Saturday;
10 a.m.-5 p.m., Sunday

Mohawk: Come here for live music and multi-level views of the stage, stay for the stiff drinks and to be properly weirded out by events like the annual Quesoff where locals compete with their queso concoctions, drunken spelling bees and even beard growing "face-off's." 512-666-0877, mohawkaustin.com

Stubb's: An outdoor stage that's built for bring-the-house-down performers, an indoor stage suited for a more intimate concert experience, and beloved brisket and signature BBQ sauce – yes, please. 512-480-8341, stubbssaustin.com

MARKET DISTRICT

Beloved Austin stores and eateries mingle with the shiny and new hotspots popping up all along this area of Lamar Boulevard and West Sixth.

Jezebel: One of the only places in Austin with a jacket-required policy, this bespoke restaurant makes trading in your flip-flops worth the effort. 512-436-9643, restaurantjezebel.com

BookPeople: From celebrated writers like David Sedaris to Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor, this local literary institution packs the place with a stellar and varied book selection that brings in legions of loyal fans. 512-472-5050, bookpeople.com

Waterloo Records: Take a spin around an independently owned shop that keeps the newest records on shelves and the hottest bands on deck for in-store performances. Don't miss vinyl happy hour every Tuesday. 512-474-2500, waterloorecords.com

Clark's Oyster Bar: Oysters on the half-shell get full mast exposure at this chic and inspired seafood haven. 512-297-2525, clarksoysterbar.com

By George: On the forefront of every fashion-forward blog and magazine, bring your new credit card and prepare to heat it up on trendy designer labels with staying power. 512-472-5951, bygeorgeaustin.com

Frank & Angie's and Hut's Hamburgers: Whether it's a slice of history you want (try the Chairman of the Board) or an award-winning between-buns invention (Hut's has been voted Austin's "Best Hamburger" 26 years straight), you've got your pick of both. 512-472-3534, hutsfrankandangies.com

Winflo Osteria

Looking for a pretty patio shaded by a 300-year-old live oak for bread, brunch and beyond? We love the ricotta pancakes at this scrumptious Italian-inspired eatery. 512-582-1027, winfloosteria.com

★ Book dinner and a show at THE LISTENING ROOM, the dark and cozy spot adjacent to the restaurant that features year-round, weekly acoustic performances and a chef-prepped dinner.

24 Diner

Ranch 616 and Rattle Inn: Start at Ranch 616 (512-479-7616, theranch616.com) with a "Ranch Water" (Hornitos Reposado, Citronge and lime juice on the rocks served with a Topo Chico mineral water), then head over to the Rattle Inn (512-373-8306, rattleinnaustin.com) for live music and skyline views.

24 Diner Staying true to their goal of producing "honest food," be sure to introduce yourself to an order of their infamous chicken and waffles with honey butter. Just don't show up on a Wednesday between 1–6 a.m.; they'll be closed for cleaning. 512-472-5400, 24diner.com

WEST AUSTIN and BEYOND

The flip-flop set of Lake Travis, the longtime residents of quiet and quaint Tarrytown and the kicked-back communities of Zilker and Lake Austin all shape this part of town.

Barton Springs

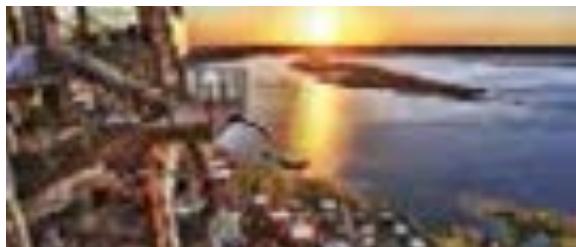

Mount Bonnell: The place where postcard-esque pics are made, lovers climb this landmark for views of Lake Travis. austinparks.org

Maudie's Milagro: One of several in the Maudie's family, Tex-Mex treats on a patio are the keys to getting to know and love the city. 512-306-8080, maudies.com

Jeffrey's and Josephine House: Stop in for locally sourced snacks and sips at Clarksville cottage Josephine's before traipsing to neighboring full-menu fine-dining restaurant Jeffrey's. The Sunday Suppers at Jeffrey's are not to be missed. 512-477-5584, josephineofaustin.com; jeffreysofaustin.com

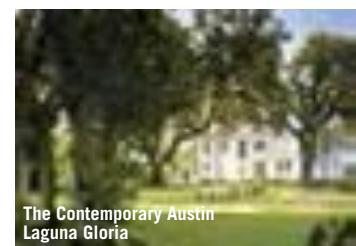

The Grove Wine Bar & Kitchen: Al fresco at its finest, this highly frequented locale in West Lake Hills caters to the most particular of palates with gluten-free, vegetarian and vegan bruschetta plates to build a dream on. 512-327-8822, grovewinebar.com

CURE JETLAG while roaming the flight list. Well-rounded wine flights range from whites to reds, divided by regions.

The Oasis on Lake Travis: Considered the sunset capital of Texas, the area hosts newly added shops and restaurants fit for the family. 512-266-2442, oasis-austin.com

Barton Springs: Situated near Zilker Park, take a dip in this natural spring-fed pool that has a welcoming year-round average temp of 68 degrees. Tip: Bring a blow-up raft and a little spending cash for the onsite concession stand. austintexas.gov

The Contemporary Austin Laguna Gloria: A favored place to say "I do," this picturesque Italian-inspired villa houses an art school and wandering peacocks. 512-453-5312, thecontemporaryaustin.org

Zilker Botanical Gardens: 31 acres of native, hybrid and exotic plants make this the type of horticulture hub a place for all ages to practice bloom worship. 512-477-8672, zilkergarden.org

HULA HUT A day boating on Lake Austin is not complete without a solid dose of mango salsa and an umbrella drink at this Tex-Mex meets Polynesian-inspired idolized locale (512-476-4852, hulahut.com). Next door, Abel's on the Lake has a fabulous deck where brunch and mimosas flow liberally. (512-904-0570, abels.com)

RAINEY STREET

Renovated houses turned into bungalow bars reign supreme on this increasingly popular tucked-away street. Day or night, you'll find relaxed bar-goers strolling from bar to food trailer to bar again, often with their dogs in tow – many of these spots are pup-friendly – looking for a kicked back sip and a bite. This area has also grown uber popular for the SXSW contingent.

No Va Kitchen & Bar: One of the more posh spots on Rainey, this restaurant-bar offers plates of from-scratch burgers and gourmet pizzas presented in a mid-century modern, two-level space. 512-382-5651, novaonrainey.com

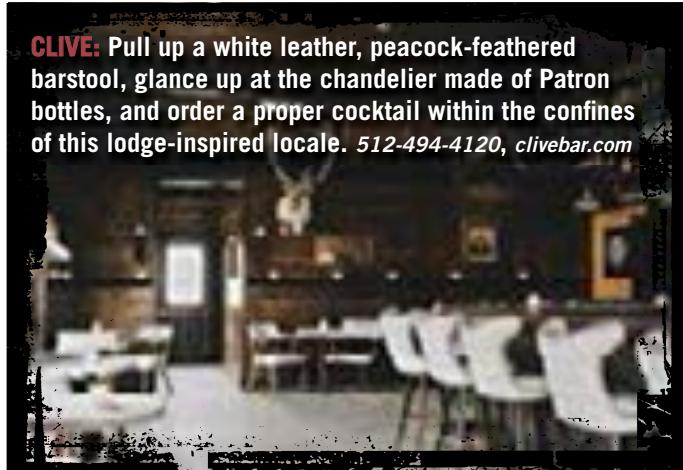

Container Bar

Container Bar: This new, totally green bar is made – quite literally – out of four-ton stacked metal shipping containers. Various lounge areas are themed with concepts like the winter room. Don't miss the Dang food trailer. 512-320-0820, austincontainerbar.com

Tapas Bravas: Five words: make your own sangria kits. Not only does this food truck serve up authentic Spanish tapas with an Austin twist like Churros with Nutella and Piquillos Rellenos, patrons are encouraged to BYOB a bottle to combine with the in-house selection of sangria starters. 512-827-8479, tapasbravasaustin.com

CLIVE: Pull up a white leather, peacock-feathered barstool, glance up at the chandelier made of Patron bottles, and order a proper cocktail within the confines of this lodge-inspired locale. 512-494-4120, clivebar.com

Icenhauer's: A stylized fire pit graces the back area, while a chandelier made of upside down wine glasses pretties up the inside. Female-focused, every drink on the specialty menu is named after an influential woman in owner Michael Icenhauer's life. 512-473-0005, icenhauers.com

Lucille Patio Bar: Do as the locals do and enjoy a lazy Austin Sunday while swinging in the hammocks or playing mini-golf at this relaxed bar. A jalapeño margarita or spiked sweet tea are the perfect drink accessories to the cabana-style atmosphere. 512-322-9270, lucilleaustin.com

G'Raj Mahal Cafe

G'Raj Mahal Cafe: What started out as a simple food truck complete with billowy tents is now a brick and mortar with an inviting patio space and stellar Indian food. 512-480-2255, grajmahalaustin.com

Bar 96: Sports enthusiasts come here to snag a barstool and catch a game, while the actively competitive types go for the wrap-around patio complete with artificial turf for games like giant Jenga and cornhole. 512-433-6604, bar96austin.com

Bar 96

If the competition at Bar 96 helps you work up an appetite, head out back to the BOMB TACOS food trailer to nosh.

Banger's Sausage & Beer Garden: This laid-back beer garden is a place to hoist one with the new friends you're bound to make when sharing a picnic table in the outdoor space. As popular for brunch 'braut and vegan sausage as this spot is for lively events, you'll be tantalized with regular tapping sessions of trial beers (they've got more than 100 on tap.) 512-386-1656, bangersaustin.com

The Blackheart: This bar is all about whiskey. The selection is more scroll than menu, and is best served neat on the perfect-for-people-watching front patio or out back with a side of live music. 512-391-1566, blackheartbar.com

Hill Country

One of the many extraordinary features of Austin is its proximity to small, old-fashioned towns and stunning nature. As you exit Austin traveling west, you will enter the Texas Hill Country, an expansive landscape filled with rolling green hills, twisting rivers and a look back into the history and charisma of Texas.

Hamilton Pool

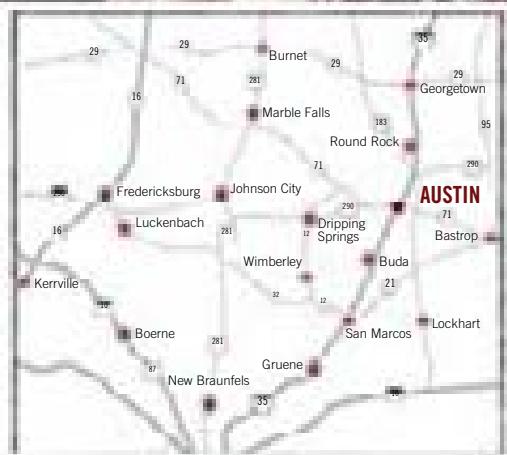

JOHNSON CITY

President Lyndon Johnson's birth town is home to a mere 1,656 residents, but packs a lot of adventure.

■ Head over to the Pedernales Falls State Park for a stroll around the area's long, flat waterfall or a dip in the designated swimming area.

■ Continue your nature adventure at Bamberger Ranch Preserve, a 5,500-acre estate and one of the largest habitat restoration projects on private land in the state of Texas.

■ Visit the LBJ Ranch and tour the former president's boyhood home.

DРИPPING SPRINGS

The Gateway to Hill Country, Dripping Springs is just 23 miles west of Austin and a popular destination for families looking to get a taste of Texas' organic beauty.

■ In the summertime, swimming hole Hamilton Pool is the perfect hideaway to cool off and enjoy the natural grotto's postcard beauty.

■ Follow the famed area wine trail, boasting eight inimitable Texas wineries and cellars.

A scenic change of pace in a world-class setting. Even our longhorns are impressed.

In the heart of the Lost Pines lies a sanctuary. A rustic retreat from the everyday. Comfortably, luxuriously, deliciously wild. Where you can explore as much, or as little, of a 405-acre, pine-covered wilderness as your heart desires. On horseback or kayak. Shooting trap or golf. Hiking on trails or floating down streams. And capping it off with a massage and a world-class meal. It's all waiting for you at the Hyatt Regency Lost Pines Resort and Spa. Minutes away. A world apart. Hyatt. You're More Than Welcome.

Hill Country

LUCKENBACH

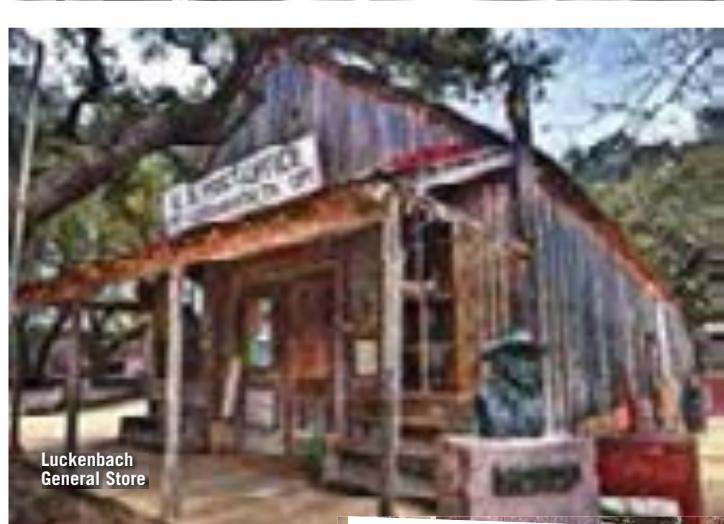

The last time a census was performed in Luckenbach, just 10 miles southeast of Fredericksburg, the total population was three.

★ The town's two remaining buildings, The Luckenbach General Store and Luckenbach Dance Hall feature daily live music from local and traveling acts.

WIMBERLEY

Much like its wee neighbors, Wimberley was a former mill town, featuring production in lumber, molasses and cotton. What remains now is a lovely, antiquated hub for Hill Country arts, boutiques and outdoor adventures.

★ Join the families swimming at crystalline Jacob's Well.
★ Take day hikes through the scenic Cypress Creek Trail and Mount Baldy.
★ Head into town and refuel at mom-and-pops such as Brewster's Pizza and locally sourced café The Leaning Pear.

BOERNE

A nature lover's paradise, Boerne is a sweet locale for families, adventurers, bird-watchers...basically anyone who appreciates fresh air and naturally stunning landscapes.

★ Check out the Cibolo Nature Center for hiking and bird-watching in a preserved marshland.
★ Visit Enchanted Springs Ranch to see exotic animals in an old Western town.

FREDERICKSBURG

Founded by German settlers in 1846, this quaint town of a little over 10,000 citizens features Old World charm while remaining quintessentially Texan.

- ★ Spend the day hopping between antique shops such as D'Vinely Designed and Berkman Books.
- ★ Take a drive outside of town to Enchanted Rock, a 640-acre granite hill that travelers of all abilities can hike.
- ★ Embracing its German heritage, Fredericksburg hosts Oktoberfest in the fall and a gorgeous outdoor European Christmas display in the winter.

Boerne Trail

Go Underground

Tour an underground cavern filled with stalactites and stalagmites at the Cave Without a Name, 11 miles northeast of Boerne.

LOCKHART

Known as the BBQ Capital of Texas, when Lockhart isn't busy feeding hungry visitors, it welcomes major film shoots to town. "Waiting for Guffman," "What's Eating Gilbert Grape" and "Where the Heart Is" were all filmed here.

- Dig in at Lockhart's world-famous pits – Black's Barbeque, Smitty's Market, Chisholm Trail BBQ and Kreuz Market – and get your fill of perfectly smoked brisket and sausage.
- Walk off some of that delicious 'cue walking around the numerous antiques and collectibles shops.

Round Top

GRUENE

Within New Braunfels along the Guadalupe River is the tiny town of Gruene, famous for being the home of Texas' oldest dance hall, Gruene Hall.

- Join the visitors rolling into Gruene Hall to get their two-steppin' on.
- Chow down at The Gristmill, an American eatery housed in a former cotton gin. Try the chicken fried steak.

NEW BRAUNFELS

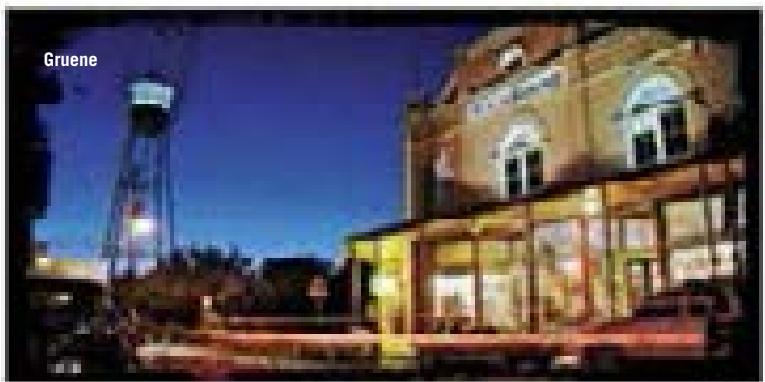

A charming German settlement, much like Fredericksburg, New Braunfels is a widely known summertime water-lovers destination.

- People come from all over to tube in the city's two major rivers: the Guadalupe and the Comal. Rent a tube and take a peaceful float downriver.
- Looking for something with a faster pulse? Rent a kayak or book a rafting adventure.
- Slip, slide and squeal at family-owned waterpark Schlitterbahn, one of the largest of its kind in the world.

ROUND TOP

A Hill Country town of only 80 citizens, Round Top is a cultural mecca that also hosts one of the largest antique fairs in the state.

- Time your visit around one of the three yearly Antiques Fairs.
- Attend admired art, literature and music events at the Round Top Festival Institute.
- Snap up tickets and head to the Barn for a University of Texas-produced Shakespeare at Winedale production.

Pastry Chef Jodi Elliott Dishes on Austin Eats

Jodi Elliott, a pastry chef, mother, and owner of Bribery, a new-in-2015 bakery and dessert bar, dishes about some of her favorite local restaurants.

San Antonio native Jodi Elliott decided at an early age she wanted to work in pastry after baking with her grandmother. She attended the Culinary Institute of America in New York, graduated and studied under Claudia Fleming at Gramercy Tavern in New York City. Elliott went on to work at London's Savoy Hotel and several restaurants in New York City before moving to Portland, and eventually to Austin in 2009, where she opened Foreign and Domestic as pastry chef and co-owner.

The restaurant quickly became popular for its eclectic local food made with high-end technique and Elliott gained notice for her wonderful popovers and dessert menu. Her fundraiser bake sales were also a hit.

"I made things that I like to eat in the morning – we started doing savory danishes like tomato and herb and biscuit sandwiches, we did slices of cake and mini pies. It changed each time and people came to sample whatever it was we were serving that day," Elliott said.

The bake sale success led to her decision to sell her ownership in Foreign and Domestic to focus on pastry full time, opening Bribery – a bakery and café during the day that will be transformed into a cocktail bar with plated desserts in the evening – by early 2015.

ELLIOTT SHARES SOME AUSTIN FAVORITES:

- » I love Second Bar + Kitchen – it's a really cool space and the menu is eclectic so there's something for everyone.
- » Justine's Brasserie is quintessential Austin because it's in the middle of a residential street and you end up in this pretty space. I love their crème brûlée.
- » Being from San Antonio, I love Tex-Mex. Matt's El Rancho is fun and the patio is awesome; their queso is super-traditional.
- » Contigo is very cool and the setting is very Texas ranch-ey. It's great for brunch and they do a very good job with their donuts and biscuits.
- » I like Vino Vino a lot – on Sunday they have paella night. I go with a group of girls for happy hours occasionally and we all order wines by the glass and cheese plates to share.
- » For breakfast and lunch, Counter Café has great blueberry pancakes and burgers and fries.
- » Phil's Ice House is awesome because the food is actually really good for a place that has a playscape that my daughter loves.
- » My favorite is Angie's on East 7th. They make their corn tortillas by hand and they are super thick and amazing; their salsa is super spicy and also really good.
- » Lenoir and Fabi and Rosi are two places that are really nice for an evening out.

Chef's Recipe

Jodi Elliott's famous Gruyère and Black Pepper Popovers are a mainstay at Foreign and Domestic.

Gruyère and Black Pepper Popovers (makes 16)

2 cups whole milk
4 large eggs
1 ½ tsp salt
½ tsp black pepper
2 cups all-purpose flour
2 oz. Gruyère cheese, cut into 16 small cubes, plus freshly grated cheese for garnish

1. Preheat oven to 375° and position a rack in the bottom third. Place muffin (or popover) pans in the oven to warm.
2. In a small saucepan, warm milk over medium heat until it is hot (about 125°) but not boiling. Remove from heat. In large bowl, whisk eggs with salt and pepper until smooth. Slowly whisk in warm milk. Add flour and whisk until batter is just combined. (It may be slightly lumpy.)
3. Remove pans from oven. Spray pans generously with nonstick cooking spray. Pour about 1/3 cup of the batter into each of 16 muffin cups. Set a cube of the cheese on top of the batter in each cup.
4. Bake popovers until puffed and deep golden brown, about 40 minutes (do not open the door or they may collapse). Remove popovers from pans, sprinkle with grated Gruyère and serve immediately.

The Tipsy Texan Serves Up Favorite Nightlife Spots

David Alan is the rare Austin native – he was born and raised here. After attending culinary school, he graduated from the University of Texas in 2007, where he double majored in government and American studies.

David began reading about cocktail and spirits history. He started a blog, Tipsy Texan, where he and his now husband, Joe, blogged about cocktail education and experimentation. At the time, he was working for a coffee roaster during the day and began to host cocktail pop-ups around town. Part of his day job included selling coffee at the Austin Farmer's Market, and it was here that Alan began meeting local chefs and farmers and learning about sustainable agriculture. His sustainable drinking philosophy evolved from here.

In 2013, Alan published a book of cocktail recipes and history. He continues to consult, doing events and marketing for liquor companies, as well as teaching Tipsy Tech, an in-depth course in spirits education.

"Cocktail culture became too self-regarding and dogmatic over the years. I think bartenders are going to start taking themselves a little less seriously and will have a bit more fun with it," Alan says.

DAVID ALAN'S TOP PICKS

When friends come in from out of town, Alan brings them to:

» Midnight Cowboy. It's a little speakeasy on Sixth Street, and I do believe that if you've never been to Austin, you have to at least see the spectacle that is Sixth Street.

» Drink. Well. is off the beaten path; they have great service, and it's very approachable and friendly. They're focused on seasonality so the drinks change all the time. I like to get a traditional Gimlet there.

» The Jackalope. One of my favorite dive bars in town – you can get a good beer, a highball, a pizza, and watch some of the crazy movies they show in the background.

» Half Step is one of the best new bars in town. It's casual and unassuming with both indoor and outdoor seating, and while they serve Tecate in cans, they also make some of the best drinks in town.

» Qui. If you want to taste cocktails that are really innovative with challenging flavors, this is a great place to go.

» Bar Congress is a must. When I'm there, it feels like a secret bar because you're in the corridor between two restaurants. Jason Stephens, who is now at Wonderland, created their cocktail program and has an exquisite palate.

Cocktail Time

David Alan shares his recipe for a Fig Daiquiri from his book, Topsy Texan: Spirits and Cocktails from the Lone Star State.

Fig Daiquiri

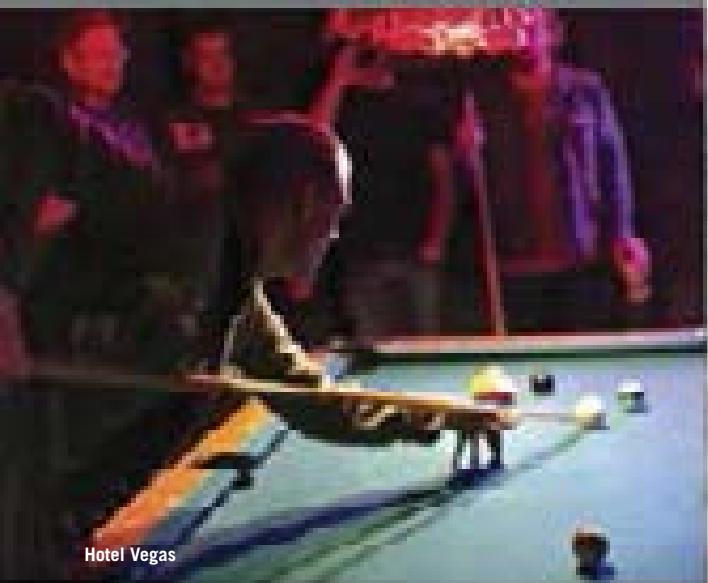

2 large ripe figs, stems removed, cut in half, plus 1 whole fig for garnish
¾ ounce simple syrup
2 ounces white rum
1 ounce fresh-squeezed lime juice

In the bottom of a mixing glass, muddle halved figs and simple syrup. Add rum and lime juice and shake vigorously with ice to chill. Adjust amount of syrup to taste. Fine-strain into chilled cocktail glass. Garnish with whole fig.

From Tipsy Texan by David Alan / Andrews McMeel Publishing, LLC 2013

If you want to do the Texas two-step, this is the place. The dance hall is internationally known as an authentic honky-tonk. Willie Nelson, George Strait and Dolly Parton have performed here. Don't miss the memorabilia room, aptly nicknamed "the tourist trap room," which is filled with photos, hats and other country-music treasures.

It's hard to miss the large suit of armor outside this family-run club that books as many as six acts in a single night. It's been a haven for singer-songwriters, like Bob Schneider, since 1990. There is a nightly cover, but happy hour shows are free.

This retro Austin relic opened in 1957 as a swanky private supper club, but in the decades since, it's transformed into a mecca for roots, rockabilly, country and swing music. A classic neon sign hangs above the entrance, and custom hot rods line South Congress Avenue in front of the dimly lit club, which Playboy magazine named one of the Best Bars in America.

Cruise and Nibble Around Austin with a Rocket Electrics Austin Foodie Tour

Nicole Zinn and John Dawson wanted to show people around Austin from the perspective of a local. They agreed there's no better way to do that than on a bicycle. They opened Rocket Electrics, Austin's only all-electric bike shop, in 2011 and offer rentals, sales and tours focused on food, music and Lady Bird Lake.

Rocket Electrics Austin Foodie Tour departs from the Rocket Electrics shop on East Riverside Drive in the retail section of the AMLI South Shore apartments at 4pm daily. Tours last about four hours. All food tours include an electric bike (ebike) rental, a tour guide and four courses from a diverse selection of Austin eateries.

Food tours are led by local foodies, and are interactive to cater to the interests and needs of each particular group. They take steps to ensure tours stop at delicious off-the-beaten-path spots while avoiding lines at some of the more popular Austin spots.

When guests arrive for tours, which range from two to 35 riders, the folks at Rocket Electrics fit each person to an ebike, go through ebike operation and take a test lap around the parking lot. They talk about what kind of food guests want to sample and preferences they have, if any. Since Rocket Electrics is just off the shores of Lady Bird Lake, many of the Foodie Tours spend their first leg on the trail, away from cars, allowing guests to get comfortable with their ebikes.

While each tour is different, stops may include:

- » Russian House for a bowl of hot borscht
- » Blue Ox BBQ for espresso-rubbed pork tenderloin and brisket
- » Via 313 for Detroit-style square pizza, specifically The Detroiter with cheese and double pepperoni
- » Casino El Camino for their famous Buffalo Burger grilled with hot wing sauce and smothered with bleu cheese
- » Licha's Cantina, Banger's or Gourdoughs for a sweet treat to end the evening's tastings

Total tour mileage averages around six to eight miles round-trip. At the end of the tours, participants often ask owner Nicole Zinn for recommendations on other favorite Austin spots. She recommends:

Dolce Neve for the goat cheese pecan and dark chocolate cayenne gelato

Winebelly and Henri's because they serve delicious food but are a bit lower key, making it easier to have a conversation and relax with friends

"Another out-of-the-way place with amazing food in a casual atmosphere is Gourmands," Zinn says.

She also loves the East Side King locations.

Why Electric Bikes?

Electric bikes, or ebikes as they are commonly called, don't require a license like electric scooters, and you can ride and park anywhere a bicycle can park (Read: Perfect for families).

Most of Rocket Electrics customers want the experience of being on a bike, but don't necessarily want the full bike workout, or they want to get to their destination faster than they would on a bicycle. Electric bikes are regulated not to exceed 20 mph with just the power of the motor, but if you pedal in addition, you can actually make them go faster.

Other Rocket Electrics Tours:

The Live Music Capital of the World® Tour is four hours and starts at 4pm

It's led by working Austin musicians and may include these stops:

- The Tejano Trail on the Eastside
- The Victory Grill to learn about the Chitlin Circuit
- Antone's (past and present)
- Stubb's
- The Willie Nelson Statue outside of ACL Live at the Moody Theatre

At the end of the tour, the musician leading the tour will perform an acoustic set on the skydeck at Rocket Electrics overlooking Lady Bird Lake.

The Lady Bird Lake Tour is two hours and starts at 11:30am

It may include stops at:

- Barton Springs
- The Stevie Ray Vaughan Statue
- The top of Doug Sahm Hill and the giant concrete map of Texas
- Insight into the best place and times to see the famous Congress Avenue bats
